Junketeering board members skip local gay issues seminar

Wow. I just got done watching a [Wayne-Westland] school board meeting; and, to my surprise, I'm listening to why and how school board members should and must go to conferences in New Orleans and spend hundreds of dollars so they can be better board members.

I totally agree that we need to have the finest board members and education. At all these levels, it's necessary to find out what's going on. But it's difficult to understand that when a conference is offered in Southfield, Michigan at a price of $5, with a free lunch, members don't attend. It's not quite as exciting as New Orleans, is it?

I don't know folks, we need to take a good look at it.

The conference in Southfield was about gay bodies and gay spirits, and it was to help the community and help people understand about gay and lesbian issues, and how difficult it is for these children. It truly is a problem, and our board members did not go to that. I would like to why. Why didn't they go?

I'm a very disillusioned citizen and taxpayer.

English garden deserves same respect as Detroit junk heap

I live in Westland and I'm calling on the question of Mr. Warren, who has the English garden.

I think it's pretty ironic that this white guy, who has this garden that wins all these awards, gets hit by the system: he gets all these tickets and has all these problems. And yet you got a black guy in Detroit who puts trash all around his house and it's an art exhibit that even gets in Time magazine, and is a great community event.

How come there's a double standard here? A black guy will make his house look like a trash dump is considered an artist, and a white guy can't grow a garden the way he likes without people sticking their noses in it?

What's America coming to?

Teachers picket

Area teachers picketed outside the Romulus School District's Administration office prior to the school board meeting last week. No picketing teacher -- complaining about a lack of a signed labor contract -- however entered the meeting. The issue however is a major topic in the current school board race.

School campaign warming up

Candidates want board meetings shown on TV

By AL POST
 MCN Staff Writer

Political signs, campaign literature and even knocks on front doors are beginning to occur as five Romulus parents are seeking voter approval to take over two soon to be vacated seats on the Romulus School Board.

The candidates include: Theodore Armstrong, Ford Motor Co. assembly worker with two children; Debbie Dick, city Recreation Department director and parent of two Romulus High graduates and a set of twins now in grade school; Sheri Hicks, Romulus school activist and the mother of two Romulus High graduates and a Middle School student; Alan Lambert, Romulus police officer (former councilman) and the father of four children; and Eddie Woods, a professional computer project leader with three children in the school system.

The election will be conducted on Monday June 8 to replace School Board President Julie Oleszkowicz and trustee Judith Gondek, who will both be stepping down after completing their four year terms.

Armstrong, 30, said he is running because he feels "a number of changes need to be made and instead of complaining about them, I figured I should actively try to make a difference."

He added "I do not have a college degree, but I do have common sense, which I feel is very necessary. I'm a great listener and a quick learner."

Dick, who most recently has been recreation director since 1995, also supports a signed

Armstrong feels strongly a signed teachers' contract is needed and that school busing should be available to students wheather "they live one block or one mile from school."

Dick, who most recently has been recreation director since 1995, also supports a signed teachers' contract, smaller class sizes and wants to have a voice in the future selection of a successor to Superintendent Dr. William Bedell.

Bedell probably will be retiring in the next three-four years.

Dick said she also favors the televising of Romulus School Board meetings and possibly the changing of the meetings to the first and third Monday nights so that at least once a month they do not conflict with the council meetings.

Hicks, who has attended school meetings for years, supports shrinking class sizes from the present 33-35 students (especially in the grade schools), hopes to bring a new focus to the board to halt long delays in the signing of teacher contracts, opposes students outside Romulus entering district classes and also backs having Romulus School Board meetings televised.

Lambert, who has been a policeman for a decade and served four terms on the city council, hopes to see the teacher contract negotiated "so the board can get back to the important issues (creating the best education possible for our students), wants a study as to whether school taxes can be trimmed and also wishes to see Romulus School Board meetings on Cable TV.

Woods has a Bachelor of Arts Degree (computer information systems) will strive to raise academic achievement for all students, seek efforts to prepare students to become responsible adults, expand efforts for student scholarships as well as aid them in their efforts in the future world's workforce.

Woods also supports the effort to create a Romulus swimming pool, wants both top Romulus district employees and others to be considered in the future to replace Bedell, urges the teachers' contract issue be resolved and requests an expansion of the district's use the area now should not cause much of a traffic hassle, since much of the work is on the unused green space.

While congestion is one of the problems facing the rapidly growing airport, the more emotional issue hurting Detroit Metro's image right now is the Northwest air travel delays and cancellations.

Reportedly the travel slowdowns are being caused by the current sluggish labor talks between Northwest Airlines workers and management. Labor officials state they feel the workers should enjoy more of the airlines' profits.

One local news radio station daily reads off the Northwest flight delays and cancellations, severely under cutting Northwest Airlines TV commercials outlining their heavy expenditures for the airports future and their caring nature supposedly making passengers more comfortable.

vocational options.

There are no clear cut leaders in general in the June election since a number of factors could influence who the winners of the election will be, the most obvious being that of turnout.

Since there are two women and three men seeking election, most election watchers doubt that two women or men will actually win. Most voters questioned favored one candidate of either sex...hinting that element was not the deciding factor in their voting preferences.

No matter, who wins the election, one thing seems certain...Howard Kesner will be the new board president and ironically it will be his last year on the board.

Photos and further information about the five candidates will appear in next week's edition of the Romulus Roman.

Raspberry Park is being planned

By AL POST
 MCN Staff Writer

Retired Romulus City Councilman Jimmie Raspberry -- the longest serving city elected official in history -- will be honored soon, Mayor William Oakley announced last week, after the city enlarges Cypress Park and renames it in Raspberry's honor.

Oakley asked and received support from the city council members to purchase two lots near Cypress Park (currently listed as lots 264 and 265) for a cost of $800.

In Oakley's memorandum to the council he stated "Raspberry served on the council for over 30 years. His dedication and contribution to our community has helped make Romulus a world class community."

"It is my belief that the dedication of Cypress Park to Mr. Raspberry is the least we can do to honor and show our sincere appreciation for the countless years of dedicated service he has provided to our community," Oakley concluded.

Walk for cure

Romulus IGA owner Dennis Swaney and Denise Bills, mother of 10-year-old Bradley Bills, examine a poster outlining a planned two mile walk to raise funds to develop a cure for a little known disease known as "A-T." The walk is slated for funding a free lunch that noon time for the hundred or more volunteer walkers.

Pole pride

The residents at Westland Convalescent Center are proud to be Americans and they want people to know it. So they raised $2,000 to purchase a permanent flag pole. They had their flag raising ceremony on May 15.

"It is a symbol of our patriotism to our country and it's heart warming to the residents to see a flag waving in the sky. It's a symbol to me of all the brave things that have been done in order to fly our flag freely. Many men and women through the ages have given their lives for our country. We should fly our flag in their honor," said Marge Henry, chairperson, resident council.

The residents council organized the fund-raiser and many donations came from diners at local restaurants to flight attendants who admired the pins the residents made for the donors.

Now residents can see the United States of America and the State of Michigan flag from their windows.

"Everyone should have a flag, freedom to express yourself, constitutional rights. I served my country during the Korean War. I'm very proud to be an American," said Harry McDermott, a resident.

"It's the patriotic thing to do. I love my country, otherwise I wouldn't have volunteered to fight in the war," said William Hickey, another resident.

Both Congresswoman Lynn Rivers and State Rep. Eileen DeHart attended the ceremony.

Kalitta second rookie to win NHRA nationals

Doug Kalitta came into the NHRA Mopar Parts National hoping to be second consecutive rookie to run away with the Top Fuel dragster title. Though he gave it his best shot, a win that day was not to be.

4.629 at 307.30 to a 4.805 at 294.37. Round two found Kalitta against Joe Amato of Exeter, Pa., Kalitta got the jump off the line but eventual event winner Amato made up for it to take the win with a 4.578 at 323.50 to Kalitta's 4.656 at 316.38. Kalitta remains seventh in the Winston points chase.

The next event for the Kalitta Motorsports team is the inaugural NHRA Fram Route 66 Nationals in Joliet, Ill., May 29-31.

Huge mushrooms

Sandra Chapman of Romulus was surprised last week when she found triple-size morel mushrooms on her Wick road property near an old orchard. While she and her husband, James, have found smaller versions of the delicacies in their garden in the past, but nothing to match the extra large mushrooms the collected and ate last week. Franklin student celebrates passage

By JENNY JOHNSON
MCN Staff Writer

We usually think of "Sweet Sixteen" birthdays as a young woman's entrance into adulthood. But in Spanish culture they celebrate a Quinceanera or Sweet Fifteen. Last Wednesday, Amy Veres, an eighth grade student at Franklin Middle School participated in the ceremony which celebrates the coming of age of a Hispanic girl.

There were also 14 other students from the Spanish Club who made up the honor court, each one represented one year of her life.

The club voted to have Amy represent them in the ceremony. "She was symbolic of all of them," said Spanish teacher, Sue Carlson.

About 100 parents, teachers and students were all on hand to watch Amy celebrate the rite of passage from childhood to young adulthood. Part of the ceremony included her taking a physical step into womanhood.

After the ceremony they had a reception in the library.

Seniors on the go

'Meals on Wheels' volunteers honored by Wayne County

Doug Jewett, 76, suffers from Parkinson's disease and heart trouble. Every weekday, the Redford Township resident receives a hot meal at noontime from Wayne County's Meals on Wheels program. "It saves me a lot of the trouble of running from here and there," says Jewett.

The volunteers who keep the Wayne County Meals on Wheels program humming will be honored at a luncheon today at the Dearborn Civic Center.

More than 500 people, including drivers who deliver the food, site food packers, site servers, liquid nutrition distributors and office assistants will be honored at a luncheon from Wayne County.

Each weekday, the volunteers provide a balanced meal to 3,000 homebound seniors and 1,800 others who gather at one of the 41 designated nutrition sites.

"Often the community doesn't realize how much planning goes into getting food to senior citizens who need it," Judith Pozan, director of the county's nutrition service programs.

Wayne County Executive Edward McNamara will be in attendance to present awards at the luncheon. "Without assistance from these dedicated troops, we just wouldn't have a program," says McNamara. "This service helps seniors stay self-sufficient and gives them the chance to stay in their own homes as long as possible," he added.

The event begins at 2:30 and runs until 5 p.m. For more information, call Wayne County Nutrition Services at (734) 326-4400.

can, Asian, Hispanic, Native American, and other minorities).

Nicotine patches and/or nicotine spray will be provided free of charge to eligible study participants. St. Joseph Mercy Hospital is the lead research facility in the Ann Arbor Regional Community Clinical Oncology Program.

For research study details, please call St. Joseph Mercy Hospital at (734) 712-5658.

Saturday in park resumes

Do you know what the number one concern of skaters, cyclists, runners and walkers is?

Motor vehicle traffic. The "Saturday in the Park" program has returned, giving visitors an opportunity to do their favorite activities in a traffic free environment six mile stretch of Hines Drive.

This year's kick-off will be nothing less than spectacular. Wayne County Parks has pulled out all the stops by providing a moonwalk, in-line skate mobile and an orbtron. These activities are only available for the kick-off and are sure to provide hours and fun to youth of all ages.

National sales tax lets us choose how much to pay

One of the campaign issues, nationally, this August and November, will be the method in which Americans are taxed. A groundswell of public support has been brewing for an overhaul of the tax code, and recent Congressional hearings that revealed unsavory business practices conducted by the Internal Revenue Service have only fueled the flame.

Some like House Majority Leader Dick Armey (R-Texas) are championing a flat income tax. However the tax that makes most sense to me at this point is the National Retail Sales Tax that is authored by Congressmen Billy Tauzin (R-La.) and Dan Schaefer (R-Colo.). This tax would eliminate the income tax totally and increase the sales tax to make up the difference.

The beauty of this method of taxation is that production is directly rewarded. Those who work hard for a living to support themselves and their families would no longer have taxes taken from their wages. By removing this barrier to productivity, the economy and society as a whole would benefit enormously.

Rep. Bill Archer, chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee further explains, "We punish people for more work effort. The harder you work, the more you pay! It ought to be, the more you spend, the more you pay." The National Sales Tax would accomplish the switch.

Under the National Sales Tax plan there would be no IRS. There would be no records to keep or audits to fear. The money a person made would be his own. If you bought nothing for an entire year, you would pay no tax period. If, like normal Americans, however, you made purchases routinely, instead of paying six cents for sales tax, under the new plan you might pay eight or 10 cents.

Back to the IRS. Did you know the Internal Revenue Service employs 111,000? The FBI employs 24,000 to fight crime and terrorism.

Only 6700 people are employed by the Drug Enforcement Agency and the Border Patrol can count on 5800 loyals employees. It seems like the bureaucrats in D.C. have their priorities twisted.

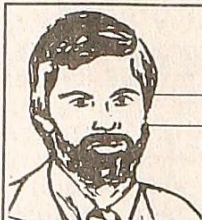

The National Sales Tax, however, will do much more than eliminate the IRS. For instance our ability as a nation to compete worldwide will be enhanced. Our exports will rise significantly, probably eliminating the imbalance in trade with our major partners. It has been estimated that each billion in trade means 19,000 jobs to the U.S. economy. This tax could create 100's of thousands of new jobs.

In addition, the National Sales Tax would ensure that members of the underground economy pay their share. We don't realize but estimates point to over $200 billion in taxes that aren't collected each year. It won't matter with the Sales Tax. You buy, you pay automatically.

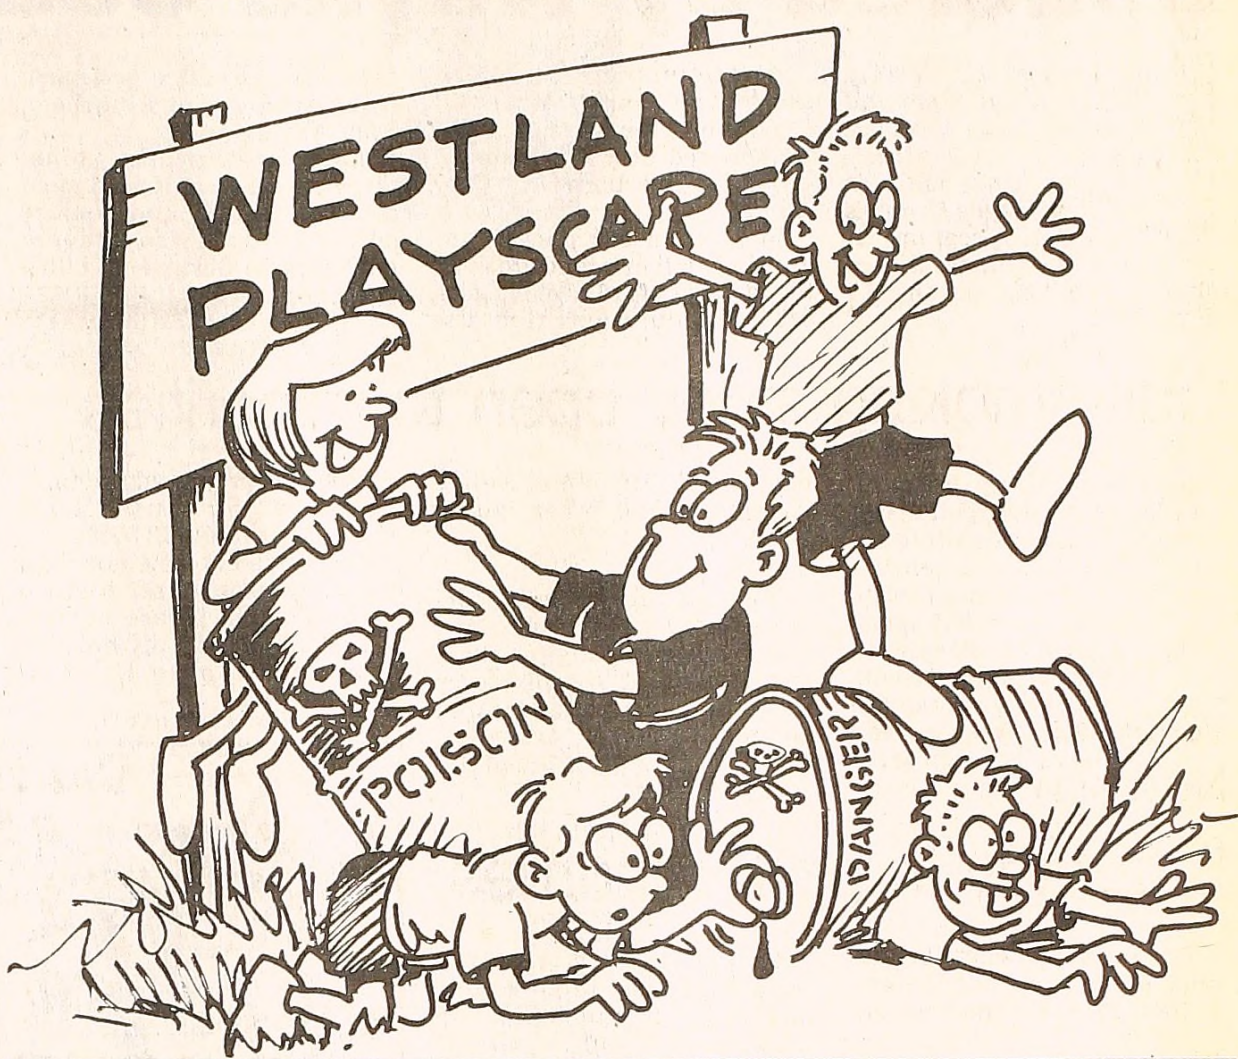

Proponents also contend that if the income tax is replaced, the U.S. will become the world's largest tax haven. Foreign capital will come pouring into our country. Interest rates will be driven downward. And savings and investment categories will skyrocket.

But most importantly the National Sales Tax empowers each of us to determine how much tax we choose to pay. No longer would taxes be taken out of your paycheck. Your employer would not withhold wages. The IRS would not exist. You only pay when you purchase goods or services.

I can't think of a better situation. Let's get on our elected officials to jump on the National Sales Tax bandwagon. This is a tax overhaul that makes too much sense to be buried in committee.

Sign up for Dog Scout Camp

Next time somebody comes to your door selling scout cookies, they may not be Girl Scout cookies.

No, they won't be Boy Scout cookies.

More likely they will be dog scout cookies.

According to the Wall Street Journal, Dog scout cookies are being sold to support dog-related charities by owners of dog scouts.

Why not support Fire Hydrants Anonymous, the Dog Breath Institute, or the War on Fleas?

Never seen a dog scout? Well you're in luck. You can pet one at the Dog Scout Camp, located on Lake Gregory, just north of Detroit.

Dog Scout Camp is a camp for dog owners and their pets. It teaches dogs "Scouts Honor."

According to the Journal, "It awards merit badges to canine campers who master beer-can pick-up and water safety, or who hike long distances carrying miniature backpacks equipped with compasses, first-aid kits and maps. It's not all work dogs and their masters also canoe, eat S'mores by the campfire and attend lectures (the talk on wolves and their hybrids is especially popular)."

They also do arts and crafts, with paint brushes tied to dogs' paws. For all I know, the dogs bake the dog scout cookies.

While it's easy to goof on the yuppies that would check into a bunkhouse with a pooch and share a bed for three weeks, it's hard to deny that it's a trend.

Dog camps are opening up across the country. And there's a waiting list.

According to the Journal, it's because pet owners feel guilty vacationing when their dogs are caged at kennels.

Dogs mean that much. Put another way, people matter that little.

Speaking of value, Dog Scout Camp costs $495, which includes human cuisine for the dogs. This is half the price of most dog-human camps.

While I admire camp owner Lonnie Olson's attempts to teach merit-grade tricks to dogs, I'm not sure whether she deserves a merit badge for her idea.

The problem is that nowadays, with values changing so fast that they're blurred, it's hard to determine which human activities are worthy of merit badges, or if values are more refined or just going to the dogs.

Thanks a Million

WEEKLY SYNDICATED COLUMN by PERCY ROSS

Millionaire Percy Ross is known for his philanthropic work. He offers help and encouragement for those in need. He has earned a fortune and a wealth of knowledge during his lifetime and wants to share both. His motto: "He who gives while he lives... also knows where it goes."

Help Bring "Lassie" To A Very Special Home

Dear Mr. Ross: What a wonderful idea you have to share your wealth with people who need it. You can be the answer to a problem that I've been pondering over 2 years. A previous coworker and single mother of 2 young boys was in a low speed (not her fault) suburban auto accident. The end result was paralysis from the breastbone down. This happened 3 years ago and since that time she has been unable to work. Through the efforts of friends she is in a wheelchair friendly house and able to drive a specially equipped van.

Her boys are in school and my first thought was that she should have a low maintenance cat for company. However, another friend says what she really would like is a dog. My request is for assistance in getting a companion dog who could help her with things while her children are in school. The training and transfer of a dog costs considerably more than I have been able to figure out how to raise. Mr. Ross, it's the one vital link that keeps my friend from attaining the highest level of independence.

Mrs. G. A. ... Radio WHO, Des Moines, IA

Dear Readers: Do you want to be a part of impacting a woman's life that will literally change the word dependency into independent? The above letter writer, Gloria Anderson, wrote me about her friend, Jalayne Noonan. Jalayne is a warm, gracious, intelligent woman, who was dealt a blow few of us would be able to respond to with the same level of dignity and acceptance. How do I know? I met Jalayne following a live broadcast I did on radio station WHO in Des Moines.

When I asked her what having a service dog would mean she responded, "For the first time in 3 years I could go grocery shopping by myself. I could knock the food items off the shelf with a stick extension I wear on my hand, and the dog could pick them up and place them in the basket. I could even go into the parkway by my home—without having to be accompanied by someone—without feeling vulnerable. Mr. Ross, I could be independent again, something which I thought I had lost forever."

Those statements prompted me to do my homework. I located a non-profit organization by the name of "Paws With A Cause." In the past 18 years this organization has placed over 13,000 dogs in 35 states. The cost in obtaining a dog with the right temperament and skill level to become a certified service dog is $10,000.

It would be a crime to let that amount of money stand between Jalayne regaining what she has lost. Although she will never walk again, with a dog like "Lassie" she will have a faithful canine companion who can be her arms and legs. The bond between such a dog and its devoted master is unlike any other relationship. It's unencumbered by the restrictions found in human relationships. It's unconditional love and trust that runs so deep, it can move you to tears in less than 60 seconds.

I'm going to see that Jalayne gets her very own Lassie, but I would like your help. I've contributed $1,000 toward our goal of $10,000, and am asking you to donate whatever your heart moves you to. I rarely ask for your help, but I'm doing so today because I want to give you an opportunity to really make a difference. It's what I've done for the past 16 years and seeing how I'm into sharing whatever I have, let me also share the experience of helping others—particularly Jalayne. It's guaranteed to make your heart feel full.

Please make your checks payable to "Paws With A Cause" and mail your tax deductible contributions to: "Service Dog", P.O. Box 39000-WHO, Mpls., MN 55439.

It's a cause too important to pass up.

Go ahead Teresa, make a difference

To the editor:

It's school election time again and we need to make a decision. We need to decide who will listen to the community's direction and vote accordingly, who will be a trusted guardian of our school system, and who will make a positive difference and show some honest leadership in our troubled school district.

Two of the candidates running for office have already had four year terms, in fact they have been the last two presidents of the Wayne Westland School Board. In other words they had their opportunity to make a difference and we as voters need to ask ourselves if they came through or not. We also need to question why a district that is receiving a $108,000,000.00 bond plus has an annual budget of $92,000,000.00 and is receiving a state settlement for more than $12,000,000.00 can still be talking about money difficulties.

The third candidate is different from most of the ones that have been running for office lately. Her name is Teresa Robbins. Teresa's 26 year involvement in the community shows that not only is she caring enough to give of her time but that she is an effective leader and can work with community members as well as local and state politicians to get things done. She attended school board meeting for years before she even thought of running. She has the time and the desire to do justice to the office and has openly promised that she will fulfill her complete term office. She is the type of person that listens to others, seeks out solutions, and does something about problems. Teresa Robbins is the type of person that can and will make a difference in our school district.

On June 8 vote for Teresa Robbins for School Board Trustee and let her know we want her to make a difference for us.

Writer calls foul on NBA players' extracurricular scoring

To the editor:

Len Elmore, an ESPN broadcaster and former NBA player, guesses that the players may average one out-of-wedlock child for each member. Some believe that the players are irresponsible; others feel gold-digging females should share a lot of the blame. Sports Illustrated suggested additional reasons for such social mischance: baby boom, frequent road trips, huge salaries, and race. I might add another two reasons for the ridiculous statistics: pants without zippers and the lack of a curfew on the town whores.

First place winners in each grade received a $50 savings bond, and all second and third place winners were awarded certificates by Bennett.

The First Place winners include:

Markita Diuguid, 4th at St. Aloysius in Romulus; Nick Jacobs, 5th grade at Edgemont Elementary in Van Buren; Kristina Rafalski, 6th grade at Wick Elementary in Romulus; and Danielle Muheisen, 7th grade in Renton Jr. H.S. of Huron.

Second Place winners include:

"I am extremely proud of everyone who participated and the time and energy put into the responses," said Bennett, who is chair of the Senate Committee on Natural Resources and Environmental Affairs.

"Protecting and preserving our environment is a huge responsibility and it is important to involve as many voices as possible in the discussion about Michigan's natural resources."

The clean Michigan Initiative has been approved by the Senate and is now awaiting action in the House of Representatives.

Eyes are on Promise Keeper's future...

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

Thousands of Michigan Promise Keepers turned out last weekend to take part in the annual Christian men's conference at the Pontiac Silverdome.

Joined by founder Bill McCartney, former University of Michigan assistant coach and University of Colorado head football coach, the men gathered for spiritual renewal and the redirection of their lives as better fathers, husbands and church leaders.

While the powerful speaker, the Rev. E.V. Hill, was forced to cancel his challenging talk because of illness, most who attended the Friday night-all day Saturday conference praised the weekend speakers and the forcefulness of their messages.

Actually two of the issues argued about days later on Christian radio dealt with side issues not the spiritual realm of the conference — the size of the turnout of the first free Promise Keepers conference and whether anti-casino forces should have been allowed into the stadium to collect signatures on petitions calling for the casino issue to be placed back on the Michigan ballot this November.

The issue of attendance was spurred by conflicting reports in two large daily newspaper, one saying 20,000 were in attendance on Saturday and the other stating there were 40,000.

Most conference attendees calling into radio stations Monday felt that the real number came closer to 35,000.

Despite its earlier stated financial woes, it reportedly was announced that Promise Keepers has regained its financial stability after briefly laying off many of its workers nationally.

Only once on Saturday was a "pass the hat" effort made, one Promise Keeper veteran said.

A second Michigan Promise Keepers conference is slated this summer in Grand Rapids. Another 17 are planned throughout the U.S. this year.

But obviously both Promise Keepers supporters and detractors will be keeping their eyes on PK's future conferences to determine if the organization will survive.

Anti-casino forces realizing they only have about a week to complete their gathering of 248,000 registered Michigan voters signatures, will be stepping up their efforts to guarantee that the issue will once again be on the Michigan ballot this fall.

Recent polls have reportedly shown that a slim majority of residents want the casinos in Detroit to open — even though they realize many social problems (including in their own families) will grow with the expanded gambling options.

It was that slight majority in 1996 that approved gambling for the Detroit area for the first time in recent history — despite the fact that similar voter options were downed in almost every other state that year.

An exciting trio of area Christian singers known as "The Redeemers" will be appearing at the Community United Methodist Church in Romulus at 6 p.m. June 6.

The young male vocalists will lead the service called Saturday Church Alive — a contemporary religious service — featuring some of the group's old favorites as well as new songs.

The musical team has made a number of musical tapes.

The farewell potluck luncheon for retiring Belleville First United Methodist Pastor Dr. David Strong will be held June 7 following the Sunday morning service.

Strong and his wife, Marcia, will be honored at that time by members of the Belleville church as well as 30 or more other Methodists he has served at other churches in recent decades.

Those who are forming the farewell program said music will be a major part of the event.

Current members are being asked to supply the church office with a letter outlining the best memory the writer has of the Strong's so that a book of church memories can be created. Photos also can be submitted, the organizers said.

Detroit Police Chief Isaiah McKinnon will speak on "Family Values" when he appears at the 9 and 11 a.m. services this Sunday at the Unity of Livonia Church, 28660 Five Mile Road in Livonia.

In addition to his speaking efforts, McKinnon has also teamed up in the past with three other singers to perform as "The Chief plus Three" or "The Blue Pigs."

One of their CD and cassette tapes entitled "What a Wonderful World" will be on sale with the proceeds going to the Police Athletic League.

The St. Linus Matthais Club in conjunction with the Catholic Order of Foresters Matching Fund program is sponsoring Vegas Nights on May 29 and 30.

Admission is free both nights beginning at 6 p.m. and lasting to midnight. The net proceeds will be used to aid bone marrow transplant patient Steve Szmigiel.

The club is located at 6465 Gully in Dearborn Heights.

Pentecost Sunday is being planned for May 31 in area churches. Those attending church that morning are urged to wear something red in color.

All Saints and SS Andrew and Benedict Parishes of Detroit are offering their first combined festival on June 5th-7th.

Fried fish, chicken, sausage, rib and stuffed cabbage dinners will be served. Entertainment, silent auctions, raffles and other activities are planned. For more information call 313-381-1184.

Margaret Kalder Spas of Canton (above) was honored recently as the Right to Life-Lifespan of Metro Detroit's "Mother of the Year." Spas, a veteran Right to Life activist, was cited recently at a special annual dinner ceremony.

30-year title drought ends

Romulus runners capture Class B regional track & field championship

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

An "outstanding team effort", punctuated by gold-medal winning efforts by its 400-meter relay team, and high jumper Melvin Hicks, secured for Romulus its first track & field regional championship in 30 years.

Romulus, with 38-points to spare, captured a Class B regional title, finishing atop of the field of 18 other competing teams at the Grosse Ile regionals.

Romulus had a total of 91 team points to finish first, followed by Dearborn Heights Crestwood (57) and Dearborn Divine Child (54). Rouge was fourth while Dearborn Heights Robichaud finished fifth.

Veteran Romulus coach Norb Glover said he has waited "a long time to see the end of this title drought."

"It's a great feeling to win - believe me," Glover said afterward. "And it's these kids who deserve all of the credit. They did it. They were outstanding."

Glover and the Eagles now face the gruelling challenge of the Class B state finals, which will be staged on May 30 at Saginaw High School. The Eagles qualified "a bunch" for the finals.

"We have a lot of kids who will be going to state," added Glover, who would not speculate on his team's chances of winning the coveted state title.

"There are," he said, "just too many fine athletes and so many things can happen at that level."

Romulus's lethal power is in its relays. If they can maintain the speed and endurance, the Eagles could surprise many of the traditional state track powers.

For now, however, the Romulus is satisfied that the regional title drought has come to an end.

The Eagles can thank the efforts of their 400-meter relay team that captured a gold. Glover's lineup in that event included Fred Russell, who has speed to burn, Melvin Hicks, the trey specialist in basketball, Brandon DeYampert, also an All-Area hoopsster, and Randy Frison, a multi-talented athlete.

In winning the gold, the foursome combined on a 44 seconds flat effort.

Hicks was the only other gold-medalist for Romulus. He won the high jump competition after successfully negotiating 6 feet, 4.

Romulus came up short and settled for silver in the 4 by 800-meter relay as Caleb Beasley, Ashley Terry, Henry Staples and Tony Christian were clocked in 8:18. Romulus finished second to Dearborn Divine Child. The Falcons were clocked in 8:10.

Rocket bats explode at LP

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

Westland John Glenn sent a message to Lincoln Park's division-leading baseball team on Saturday.

The Rockets may be stuck in the middle of the pack in the Western Lakes Division, but they still have enough explosives to blow the Railsplitters away.

A nine-run Glenn seventh inning lifted the Rockets to a 14-5 victory over their non-conference opponents that Glenn coach Todd Duffield hopes will provide the momentum to carry his team into the Class A District playoffs.

The playoffs begin next week and the Westlanders find themselves confronted by their old foes - Wayne Memorial, Garden City and Livonia Franklin.

"My concern with this team is the lack of consistency," said Duffield. "Yes, we looked great against LP, and even against North Farmington (Glenn lost 3-2) we looked good, but then Stevenson beats up on us (7-1) and Taylor Truman knocked us off, 6-2."

"Our problem this year is finding a level of consistency that we can all live with."

The Rockets began the week with an 8-8 conference and a 6-4 division record, after winning four of their seven games last week.

Brian Alt, who pitched to only one batter, got the 4-3 victory over Farmington.

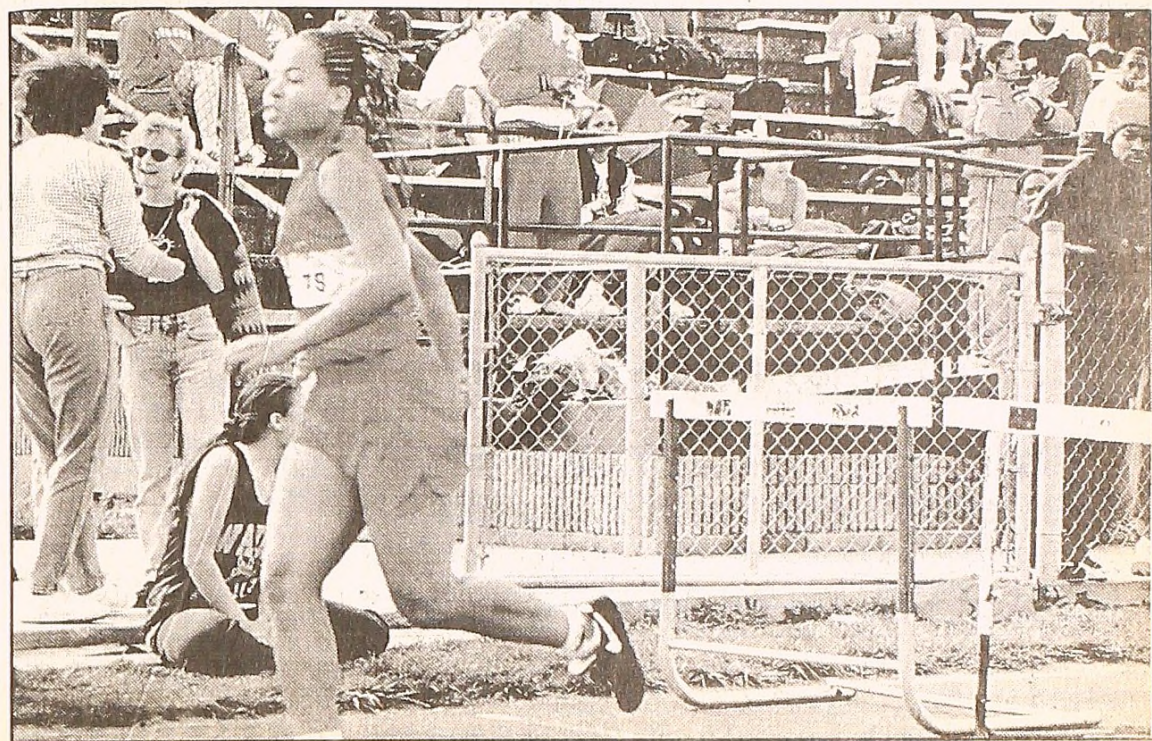

Josh Utley started on the mound for Glenn and worked 6 2/3 innings before he got into trouble, and Duffield decided he needed help.

Farmington had a 3-2 lead in the top of the seventh and the Rockets pushed the tying and winning runs across in their seventh thanks to a lead-off triple by Brian Miller and Gordie Smith's tie-producing single.

Then, after Tim Reeves walked, Chet Rees singled home the winning run.

Salem stuns title-bound NF

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

Plymouth-Salem scored two runs in the bottom of the seventh to jolt title-bound North Farmington, 12-11, in a Western Lakes Division showdown between the two divisional powers.

North, using one of its trump cards in ace hurler Jeff Trosz, folded when Tony Bernhardt cracked a bases-loaded single to produce the winning runs.

Trosz was not around at the finish. The North senior pitcher was yanked in the fourth after the speedball artist gave up five runs and six hits to the Rocks.

Brandon Bray got the victory, in relief. Coach Dale Rumberger went with Jason Cox on the mound and he worked the first four innings before Scott Hay took over.

Hay worked the next 1 1/3 innings before he yielded to Bray.

Salem also came up with a 7-4 victory over Northville as Corey Acker laced a two-run single to stake the Rocks to a four-run first inning.

Salem's Jason Lukasik, who pitched a three-hitter against John Glenn, came back with a another stunning performance in a victory over Livonia Stevenson.

Wayne coach sets hoop camp dates

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

One of the most successful high school basketball coaches in the area and the state will again host a summer basketball camp.

Wayne Memorial's Chuck Henry announced this week that the dates for the annual Wayne High Basketball Camp have been set for the weeks of June 15-10 and June 22-19.

"We have had a lot of success with our camps," stressed Henry, whose teams have won a handful of conference, district, regional titles and have made appearances in the state quarterfinals and semis in recent years.

"I think the kids look forward to these camps as much as we love holding them."

The camps are for students in the fourth through 12 grades. The first session, which will be conducted from June 15-19 from 1 to 3 p.m., is for fourth through seventh graders. There is a $15 registration fee.

The second session is dedicated to players in the eighth through 12th grades and will be staged from June 22-26 from 1 to 3:30 p.m. The registration fee is also $35.

Henry, who will be assisted by some of his former and present varsity players, said that the camps offer instruction and demonstration of the fundamental basketball skills. There will also be drill work to improve individual performance.

The first 72 paid registrations will also receive a basketball.

Participants will receive a camp T-shirt as well as trophies for special awards and recognition.

Chuck Henry

Prospective camp participants should send their name, address, city and parent or guardian's permission signature, along with a check of $35, to the Wayne Summer Basketball Camp, 1927 Treadwell, Westland, Mich. 48186.

Please place checks payable to Charles Henry.

Parents who have questions may reach coach Henry at 729-8022.

Romulus moved into the final week of the regular baseball season with two impressive victories behind them and Dearborn Fordson blocking their path to the Mega Conference, Gold Division title.

Fordson, with only one loss, needs a win over coach Don Foley's Eagles to capture the 1998 divisional championship outright.

In the meantime, Foley and the Eagles cleared the deck for the showdown with back-to-back victories over Dearborn Heights Crestwood and River Rouge.

Reliever Jeff Brasili and starter Jeremy Stevens scattered nine Crestwood hits to stop the Chargers 9-5. The Eagles rallied for three decisive runs in the top of the seventh to put the Dearborn Heights team away.

In that crucial inning, Romulus' James Monat sparked the rally with a single to left with two away. He then proceeded to steal second, and scored on Travis Hadynyak's base hit.

Dennis Forystek chased Hadynyak home with his second triple of the game. Whenn Aaron Brohl singled, the Eagles secured the victory.

Stevens started on the mound and worked the first four innings, giving up four runs on six hits before Foley decided on a pitching change. Brasili stepped in and got the job done.

Plave twirled a three-hitter in the 12-3 victory over the Panthers from Rouge. The junior righthander fanned a season's high 13 Rouge batters and walked six, while hitting two batters.

Romulus got an outstanding effort from Stevens at the plate. He latched on to three hits, two of those going for doubles and 1 RBI. Brasili helped out with three RBIs and three hits, while Forystek, Brohl and Martin each checked in with two hits with Brohl accounting for three RBIs.

Romulus is scheduled to meet Dearborn Fordson on Tuesday in a showdown for the division title. A victory by the Eagles will give them a share of their first baseball championship in recent years.

Robichaud runs 2nd to Grosse Ile at Class B girls regional track

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

Robichaud and coach Francis McCauley may not have much depth on their 1998 girls' track teams, but what they have was good enough to finish second-best at the Class B regional championships staged at Grosse Ile on Saturday.

The Bulldogs finished with a total of 67 team points, which gave them the runners-up plaque. The host Islanders compiled 136 points to capture the regional crown.

Monroe Jefferson finished a distant third with 61 points.

Robichaud qualified four athletes for the Class B state finals which will be staged on May 30 at Saginaw.

The Bulldogs finished with a total of 67 team points, which gave them the runners-up plaque.

The Bulldogs have in their lineup senior Andrea McGrew who captured the triple crown at the regional after clearing the 100-meter hurdles in 15 seconds, then leaping 16 feet, 4 3/4 inches for a gold in the long jump and also stashing away a victory in the 300-meter hurdles with a lifetime best time of 45.7.

Althea Graham, a junior, placed second in the long jump (16 feet, 3 3/4), then was awarded a pair of golds thanks to her performances in the 200 and 400-meter dash events. Graham covered the 400 in 60.5 and was equally impressive in winning the 200 in a 26.5.

Robichaud's 800-meter relay team was runnerup to the Islanders who won the gold with a 1:47.3. The Bulldogs finished with the silver with a lineup that included Amber Beene, Angel Mays, Graham and McGrew.

"We have some very talented young ladies on this team," said the veteran Robichaud coach. "They will have their day at the state. What this team lacks in depth is made up with in talent."

pair of three-baggers, led Glenn's six-hit assault against the Spartans.

Plymouth-Canton embarrassed the Rockets 11-7 as the Chiefs collected six earned runs and capitalized on Glenn's five errors.

Hard-luck pitcher Mike Stafford suffered the loss. He gave up nine runs on 12 hits and walked two, while Canton's Tim Rourke earned the victory.

Canton got four hits - three singles and a double from Van Hull, while Kwiatkowski and Copenhaver each checked in with three singles.

Reeves' single and double, along with Hayes' two hits and Justin Facto two triples in three hits that accounted for three RBIs, led the Rockets.

Swofford's solo homer in the second and Greg McCollum's two-run blast paced Glenn's 15-11 victory over Livonia Franklin earlier in the week.

Rees was the winning pitcher.

NF ace pitcher Kirk Taylor fanned 10 and walked five in the 3-2 North Farmington victory over the Rockets.

Glenn had a chance in the sixth to get a couple of runs when it has runners on first and third and one out. But Taylor got out of trouble when Smith grounded out and Reeves fanned.

Hayes, who gave up two runs, didn't walk any and struck out three, was tagged with the loss.

Josh Utley fired a two-hitter and helped his cause with three singles and two RBIs as Glenn turned back Stevenson 7-1. Utley, a senior right-hander, notched three strikeouts and walked an equal number for his second victory in five starts.

Hudson chipped in with two hits, one a double, Rees finished with a pair of singles.

Glenn wasted a two-run homer run by Utley in a 6-2 loss to Taylor Truman.

In that nine-run explosion in the seventh that humbled Lincoln Park, the Rockets started the rally when Miller walked, Fondalet was safe on a fielder's choice, then Smith laced a two-run homer that cleared the right field fence. Reeves kept the rally alive with a single, and he moved to second when Rees also singled.

Hayes then walked to load the bases, followed by Adam Sulek's fielder's choice which scored Rees. After Swofford walked, Facto doubled into right center, scoring two runs. Rees' base hit produced the final run of the inning.

On Saturday, Glenn plays Country Day at 10 a.m. in the Madonna Invitational.

Glenn hurdler sets record, wins 2 golds

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

Record-setting performances by senior hurdler Nicole Herring and an outstanding overall performance by Nicolette Jarrett lifted Westland John Glenn to a third-place finish at the Class A regionals staged Friday at Redford Union.

Herring set a new Glen record in winning the 300-meter hurdles in 47.2. She dominated the hurdles with a second gold, in the 100-meter hurdles which she negotiated in 15.7.

"She did a superb job for us," said Glenn coach John Kitchen, "as did the rest of our team members."

LaToya Chandler also earned a gold. She cleared 5 feet, 9 to post one of the best efforts in the state for the high jump. Chandler's mark is also a new Rocket record.

Jarrett found herself in tough company in the form of Plymouth Canton's Nkechi Okwimabur in the long jump competition. Nkeeki won the gold in the long jump with a leap of 17 feet, 6 inches while Jarrett settled for second and the silver after clearing 17 feet 3/4 inches.

Jarrett also was runnerup to Detroit Cass Tech's Tracie Ball in the 200-meter dash. Ball was clocked in 24.2, while Jarrett posted a 25.4.

Kitchen put together a lineup composed off Herring, Kania Adams, Chandler and Jarrett which won a silver for the 400-meter relay. The foursome broke the existing Rocket record for the event, posting a 49.1. The previous best was a 49.8, established in 1976.

The same foursome was runner-up in the 800-meter relay, clocked in 1:45, and won by Detroit Cass Tech (1:39.7).

Livonia Stevenson won the regional. The Spartans gathered 124 points, 34 more than the second-place Plymouth-Salem squad. The Westlanders had 79.2.

relay crossed the finish line second, behind Dearborn Heights Robichaud's foursome of Leonte Lilliard, Levi Peoples, Raphael Brown and David Moss, who posted the winning time of 1:29.20.

The Eagles had a 1:30.3 in that event.

The same Romulus foursome - Russell, DeYampert,

Terry and Frison - came away with a bronze for their performance in the 400-meter relay.

Russell, an All-Stater in football, was runnerup to Rouge's speedster, Ed Johnson, in both dash events.

Johnson led Russell to the wire in the 100-meters as he churned a 10.5 to Russell's 10.6. Moss wound up with the bronze, thanks to a 11.2.

The trio - Johnson (21.6), Russell (22.2) and Moss (22.4) - were also on the dais when it came to awarding medals for the 200-meter dash.

DeYampert, one of the best basketball players in the state this year, qualified in the 200 as he finished fourth in 22.85, a state-qualifying standard.

The Eagles also qualified their half-milers, Christian (1:59.4) and Terry (2:00), who finished third and fourth, respectively, in the 800-meter run. Riverview's Brian Terpak won the 800 in 1:57.4, while DCC's Phil Stead was runnerup (1:58.3).

Romulus senior hurdler Carleton McCauley finished with the silver in the highs as he trailed Willow Run's Sylvester Stornes across the finish line. Stornes cleared the hurdles in 14.5, while McCauley's second-place time was 14.8.

DeYampert was second also in the long jump. He leaped 21 feet 1/4 inch, losing the gold to Rouge's Johnson, who cleared 22 feet, 2.

The Saturn SC2, nice car, nice ride, with a good price! Being a person who is not 'big' on smaller cars, I believe that Saturn out did themselves with this one. Once inside the seating compartment, you feel as if you should be at a race track. You want to get everyone off the light. It is a very hard car not to take off quick in.

With the sporty look and smooth gear changing, the Saturn makes you want to drive all day!

If you are looking for the car with safety features, this would be the one! This Saturn comes standard with daytime running lamps, impact absorbing steel spaceframe with front and rear crumple zones make you feel very safe while tooling around town.

But the standard features did not stop there: There are also side impact door beams, energy absorbing side impact padding. And for the family, the Saturn also comes standard with child security rear door locks and child safety seat anchors. Dual airbags and torque-adjusting traction control help the safety of the driver and passenger.

The rear seating compartment came complete with a rear seat lamp, two cup holders, as well as an area to hold the knick knacks of traveling.

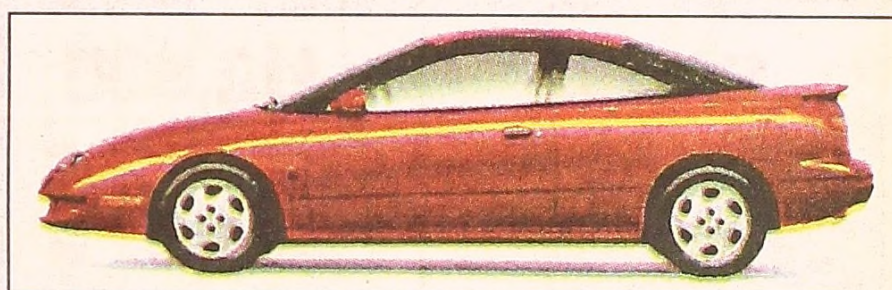

The Saturn SC2 also comes with dent resistant exterior panels, a rear spoiler which really makes this car sporty, low profile tires, reclining front bucket seats, driver seat height and lumbar adjustment, fold down rear seats which extends the trunk space for the larger items, front console with cup holders and a 4 speaker am/fm stereo system which I must say put out some great sound!

The SC2 that I took for the test came with the SC2 package. For an additional cost of $2,280, you can add this package which includes power locks with remote keyless entry and security system, power windows, air conditioning, power remote control right side mirror, cruise control and 15" teardrop III alloy wheels.

And for another $706, you can ride in real style with leather seating, leather components such as the steering column and wheel and shifter knob.

I really enjoyed driving the SC2. This car came with a 1.9 DOHC 16-valve engine with a 5 speed transmission with one of the smoothest and closest gear changing I have ever encountered and the hydraulic clutch took no strength of the leg at all to push in, which really improved the performance of the Saturn.

The one thing I can say that I am not quite happy with is that the Saturn was not make for large or tall people. It is not the easiest car to get into if you have long legs.

1998 Saturn SC2

The seating compartment formed well to large or small body forms. As in most of your smaller vehicles, the entire instrument panel was well within reach of the driver, which means you can more easily change a station of turn on the air without taking your eyes off the road for long.

As for easy maintenance take a look at this! The Saturn comes with distinctive color-coded dipsticks, for those of us who ask "where do I check the oil". It also comes with transparent fluid containers so we can check some of the fluids without having to open them. Easy access spark plugs and easy replacement air, oil and transmission filters for the do it yourself home mechanic. Quick change headlamps, maintenance free battery as well as a gas cap holder which make the SC2 all that much more attractive to the handyman.

For those of you concerned about the environment, Saturn has you in mind also with a CFC free air conditioning refrigerant, aluminum engine block, evaporative emissions canister, and asbestos free brake linings.

Looks as if Saturn has thought of everyone with this little car, except for us long legged people. This is one great car for the single person wanting the sports car, or even for the small family!

With gas mileage at only 26 mpg in the city and 36 mpg on the highway, you sure can't ask for much more!

The standard vehicle price on the Saturn SC2 is only $13,695. Not bad considering all the comfort zones you receive in the standard package.

Get to your nearest Saturn Dealer today if you are in the market for a sports car! Sleek styling, comfort and safety zones, at a great price!
